THE HUMAN BODY HAS ITS OWN GREAT MEDICINE

When we mention medicine, people usually think of western medicine or traditional Chinese medicine... But what does this have to do with ZNQG practice? In fact, Medicine is a very broad concept. There is a saying in China since ancient times: The human body has its own great medicine. What this really means is that medicine is not only a visible drug, but also an invisible substance. In the vast universe, the material, energy and information that have an important impact on the human body can all be medicine.

As ZNQG practitioners, we hope to heal our physical and mental diseases and maintain a healthy and harmonious state of life through practice. Therefore, an objective and comprehensive understanding of the effects of different levels of substances on our body and mind, how to avoid negative effects, and how to produce and use beneficial effects, is the basis of our Medicine course.

In this course, we will summarize different levels of substances involved in life and our practice into eight pharmaceutical factories. This includes visible Western medicine, traditional Chinese medicine, invisible Hun Yuan Qi used in practice, endocrine substances, information, etc. We will share simple but comprehensive descriptions of the nature of these different levels of substances, how to manage your own pharmaceutical factory so as to receive the benefits and avoid harm, as well as the principles of medication.

In the treatment of food as medicine, we will briefly introduce the relationship between the characteristics of food and organs, qi and blood, immunity, etc., and how to improve immunity and maintain health through eating.

In the Fifth Pharmaceutical Factory, we will explain the technology of how to transform the external Hun Yuan Qi into the internal Qi of human beings, and how to stabilize the Qi.

In the Sixth Pharmaceutical Factory, we will explain in detail the important role of "mind-information" in practice and daily life. Also how to design information and fix the information, which is an important part of whether the practice can achieve a curative effect and change the destiny.

In the Seventh Pharmaceutical Factory, we will explain the neurotransmitters, signals, immune substances, endocrine hormone substances produced by the spirit- brain- organs system. This is the great medicine for the human body.

It is easy to produce negative emotions creating toxicity for the ordinary person in the unconscious situation. Many people have accumulated a lot of toxins and garbage, but do not know how to clean up the mess and stop producing toxins. This will be discussed in detail in the course to show you the importance of managing your emotions.

If you can integrate and utilize this wisdom of the pharmaceutical factory, many diseases will naturally recover and healthy functions can be restored.

The Eighth Pharmaceutical Factory is the great medicine of the True Self system. Yi Yuan TI, the Original Hun Yuan Qi, Lingtong Hun Yuan Qi, the congenital Qi, great love, gratitude, etc. - these are the highest, the most effective and the safest medicine. But most of them are still dormant and many people have never experienced them. In this course, we will give a brief introduction, and in the future, we will present a thematic course to you.
